PROGRAM OUTLINE

1. Background and Rationale

The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 underscores the importance of inclusive and holistic education by recognizing learner diversity and prioritizing physical, mental, and emotional well-being. It encourages educators to adopt empathetic, flexible, and learner-centered pedagogical practices that respond effectively to diverse academic and health-related needs.

In today's classrooms, increasing cultural, social, and psychological diversity presents both opportunities and challenges for educators. Simultaneously, rising concerns related to physical and mental health such as stress, anxiety, lifestyle-related issues, and emotional distress. Addressing these concerns requires informed, compassionate, and structured approaches within educational institutions.

This one-week Upskilling Program on "Handling Diversity, Physical and Mental Health Issues" is designed to equip faculty and staff with the knowledge, awareness, and practical skills needed to foster inclusive, supportive, and health-conscious learning environments.

2. Objectives

The primary objectives of the program are:

- To familiarizing educators with the diverse challenges related to student physical and mental health.
- To developing practical skills in identifying, supporting, and referring students with diverse health and wellness needs.
- To promoting the integration of inclusive practices into curriculum planning, classroom management, and assessment strategies.
- To encouraging reflective teaching practices supported by data and analytics related to student well-being and diversity metrics.
- To fostering a collaborative community of educators committed to creating an inclusive and supportive learning environment for all students.
